

Prologue

THE Senior Class of 1928 takes the greatest pleasure in presenting to you this fifth edition of the "Wakadee" which we have prepared as a treasure-house of those memories which we hold most dear in the year that has passed.

We regret that the "Wakadee" is no better and rejoice that it is no worse. Our work has not been all play. Our muses would not always respond, but we worked bravely on and this is our result.

To us it is the mirror of our High School career. To the undergraduates, faculty and all, we hope it will realize the dream of uniting us as friends. We have brought you to the same level and have laughed with you, not at you.

We hope that, with the passing of years, this annual will have even greater worth for you than it has now, and that it will recall to your memory only pleasant thoughts of the class of '29.

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new."

Dedicated to Glenwood Harrington

True Love

An angel dropped a lily from the sky
And, as it wafted slowly from on high
It took unto itself a voice
And whispered, as it passed me by,
"I am the symbol of two hearts that beat as one
From morning's break till day is done
I make secure the plans they've made
I never, never am betrayed."

I stopped it on its downward flight
And marvelled at its petals bright,
They seemed so purely white,
Sincerity, loyalty, trust, faith, all combined
And securely with devotion were entwined.
My heart within me seemed to say,
"What shall we call you Flower of God—
Sent down from Heaven above?"
And with the gentle breeze it seemed to nod
And spoke, and said,
"Call me True Love."

Seniors

"And in me there dwells no greatness

Save it be some far off touch of greatness

To know well I am not great."

LOWELL SLOAT—"Sloat"

Diligently laboring
Over his books
Many good grades
This way he hooks.

KATHERINE LEHMAN—"Katie"

Never mad
At anyone—
Always having
Loads of fun.

GRACE BOWERS

Our editor-in-chief
Is an artistic lass
The most popular girl
We have in our class.

GLENWOOD HARRINGTON

"Chet"

Glenwood is our
Athletic star
Whose prowess, now,
Is known afar.

MARY ENDERS "Otie"

She's the girl with
The winning way;
Her smile sticks with us
Throughout the day.

GENEVIEVE BLOSSER "Jenny"

Typing, typing
All day now.
As a stenographer
She'll make a "wow"!

RUSSELL WELDY—"Russ"

Russell is very wise
For a fellow
Of his size.

CLEO WEAVER

You always notice
Her smiling face.
She, too, is in
The commercial race.

PAUL STROUP—"Dave"

When anyone looks at me
They see
That I'm just the fellow
I want to be.

WINNIE DETWILER

"Winifred"

She's quiet and
She's sweet,
One whom all
Delight to meet.

GEORGE BRENNEMAN

"Brenneman"

A man whom we delight to know,
And one whom we do not call slow.

BESSIE HOOVER

She's not the kind of girl
To crab,
But she likes to work in Physics Lab.

PAUL PLETCHER "Pletch"

(Pletch's Philosophy)
Let us play while we may
And get our lessons
Some other day.

MYRTLE YODER "Myrtie"

In penmanship
Surpassed by none.
Her art work, too,
Is very well done.

HAROLD WELDY "Weldy"

A man of business
Without a doubt.
At any task
He's very devout.

ESTHER HARTZLER

In public speaking
She's quite content.
Toward serious things
Her mind is bent.

CALVIN MISHLER "Pete"

Calvin with his car is fast.
As we have seen in the past.

PAULINE BRENNEMAN

To be a bookkeeper
Is her aim.
She's fast in athletics
Just the same.

WALTER HARTMAN "Indian"

Snick, in trying
To find some jokes
Worries and troubles
Many folks.

GLADYS BUZZARD "Peggy"

Was there ever a joke
She failed to have caught?
Much joy and great pleasure
To her friends she has brought

PAUL LIENBACH

He's loyal, frank, and true
A friend we call true blue.

Class History

ON the first day of school in September, 1925, forty-eight boys and girls met at the foot of a beautiful range of mountains. Off against the horizon, loomed the greatest mountain namely Mt. Senior, and it was the ambition of each one to cross the other mountains and be at the top of the great alluring Mt. Senior. Before we were able to start climbing this fantastic mountain, three smaller mountains, called Mt. Freshman, the smallest in size, Mt. Sophomore, the next in size and Mt. Junior, the largest of these three, had to be crossed.

We started out with happy feelings and light hearts but as we were climbing the first mountain, some became tired as their burdens were heavy. They stopped on the mountain side to pick the early flowers of life. As we passed over the difficulties, there were bright spots that led us on and about forty members crossed Mt. Freshman.

While resting in the valley of Thinking, which separates Mt. Freshman from Mt. Sophomore, three people joined us to climb the other mountains.

Thirty-two boys and girls started out on the second journey. Along with the hardships came some pleasures, one of which was a Halloween party, enjoyed by all present. Crossing the difficulties, some became tired and they stopped to pick the later flowers of life. At the base of Mt. Sophomore, one of the three who met us, departed.

After we had again stopped in the valley of Rest, which divides Mt. Sophomore and Mt. Junior, another person joined our group.

Twenty-five members started the third journey. The rocks and other hindrances were greater in traveling over Mt. Junior than were the previous troubles, but with Mt. Senior just across the valley, we overcame the hardships and passed on into the valley of Peace. At the foot of Mt. Junior, the one that joined us as we started our third journey, departed from us and went in another direction of life.

We went through the valley of Peace and were at last to the great irresistible Mt. Senior. Twenty-one members began this wonderful journey and all have succeeded in crossing. The bright lights that have led us on, we are hoping will lead the classes of the future. The difficulties can be crossed if each tries to do his best.

We are now ready, as the class of 1929, to start into the valley that leads to the mountain of Life, and with your wishes and our good luck, we are hoping to cross this wonderful mountain.

Class Prophecy

SO you want to see my graduation gown. Well there couldn't be a better time than this afternoon to spend up here in the attic looking at it, for it's just fifty years ago tonight I was graduated in it. School used to get out earlier than it does nowadays. How you do take me back to that April with your talk of frills and finery. It seems like only yesterday that I was trying to make up my mind between orchid and tan, and shirring or gathers or pleats.

So you remember me telling you I was graduated from your school and now you want me to tell you all about my classmates while we look at my old graduation gown. We certainly showed off how much better we were than school children fifty years before us.

There, I finally got the key to turn! It's been I don't know how many years since I've had this trunk open. It was my grandfather's, so I reckon the locks got a right to be cranky if it wants. My, but it's dusty! My knees bother me so much of late years, I don't get up in the attic to keep things tidy as I did when I was younger.

Here's the gloves I wore, and those are the stockings I wore with my graduation gown. Feel them, Rachel! You can't buy such stockings now for twice the money. These are my shoes. Well, maybe they look queer to you, but I was proud of them the night I graduated. There wasn't a prettier pair of patents in town.

I see you're impatient to come to the gown. Well, I don't blame you. (Lifts quantities of tissue paper out of trunk and shows dress.)

I do declare if the sight of the old frock doesn't make my eyes wet! I ain't had it out for years, (wipes eyes.) Here Rachel, just slip it over your head and see how I used to look fifty years ago.

(Rachel slips into dress and turns this way and that, showing it.)

Ah, the night I wore it! I can see it as plain as if it was only last week.

What's this scent of dried roses? Oh, yes, that's the rose Walter Hartman was bound to get on banquet night. He has the best entertaining company in the United States and he himself is a master magician. You say he is to be at the Granada next week? My word! Harold Weldy travels with him quite a bit, the papers say. When it comes to working with a band, nobody can compete with Harold. It's just providence that there was somebody to stand in Sousa's shoes when he passed out.

These are the bead flowers Winifred Detwiler gave me. She's been floor walker at Zeisel's these last eighteen years, and anybody with eyes can see it was her doings that set them growing like a mushroom. Genevieve Blosser is the highest salaried stenographer in the store and when their vacation time comes this summer we are going to Europe in my ship. A future reader told my mother she would inherit a ship from Germany, but mamma never saw it. Now a cablegram came a month ago saying the ship is on the way at last. We will stop at Jersey Island to see Gladys Buzzard. She does dairying and she owns the three finest cows on the island. Coming back Bessie Hoover will be with us. Your grandma could tell you of the terrible winter they had in Europe in '28, '29. Miss Wertz kept us informed on current events. Well, they had more than one hard year and the people could never tell when to lay up extra preparations for cold. But Bessie has done some wonderful relief work over there. One thing was to get the people started to raising more ducks and geese to provide comforter fillings and enough meat for export. Paul Pletcher who has been working at horticulture and developing some of the branches Burbanks had discovered, has found a highly concentrated grain which is raised at comparative small cost, with which to feed Bessie's poultry.

Paul Lienbach works with Pletcher. Lienbach's line is strictly scientific farming. The boys have made a new kind of tobacco with which they supply Paul Stroup's cigar factory. Science has proved that this new product has in it only 7% of the poison found in the original plant, has the quality of the best. So no one need have any scruples as to whether George Brenneman should allow them to use his picture in advertising. You see George is a railroad man, president of the "Big 4." One of his runs takes him close to Mary Enders' cleaning establishment in Manchester. Mary has a quarter block in which she has her laundry, dry cleaning, and shoe repair shop. She does marvelous work with her new patent run-darner and run-proofing bath. Cleo Weaver worked out the basis of the run-proof, so Mary does free of charge all the laundry and dry cleaning for Cleo's boarding house near Manchester College. Myrtle Yoder teaches music and drawing at the College and stays at Cleo's.

Here is an old album with all my classmates' photographs in it. Grace Bowers and Katherine Lehman took voice lessons from Myrtle about three years after she began teaching. Those two ladies have nearly crazed opera fans with their dual productions. Katherine specializes in dramatics and Grace in music, but they sing duets and play Swiss hand bells, and they put on some very clever one act plays.

Now here is Pauline Brenneman. She has been head nurse in Elkhart hospital since 1940. Whenever Calvin Mishler gets too rough with some highway auto race participant Pauline sees to applying the adhesive tape. When we were in High School Calvin was considered a rather fast driver in more ways than one, and when authorities couldn't make him go slower they gave him a good shove and made him a state highway patrolman.

That boy with curly hair? Why certainly you know him. That's President Weldy's graduating picture. He went to Indiana ouse of Representatives the year he came of age and politics couldn't give him up till it had hoisted him into the president's chair. George Washington rode to the capitol on horseback and Russel Weldy went in a Harrington airplane. Glenwood always was a mechanic but who would have thought that he would go straight to the highest position on Ford's airplane testing field, then go and make a plane of his own?

Now this is the last one of my classmates, but not the least. Lowell Sloat was our class president the last two years. Well, he wasn't satisfied with that but he assumed the presidency of Indaina University.

Mercy, Rachel, how dark it is getting! I must get down and finish some things for the Sewing Circle.

—Esther Hartzler, '29.

Senior Class Party

The Senior Class Party was held at the home of Walter Hartman, September 21, 1928, in a grove. About fifteen members, eight guests and the sponsor, Mr. Gerber, were present. Games and contests were played. A weiner roast and marshmallow toast was enjoyed.

—Mary Enders '29.

Class Will

Esteemed Company of Witnesses:

The Senior Class has felt for some time that its demise was near; we have felt that school was beginning to disagree with us and that the members of the faculty have conspired to accomplish the death of the most astonishing brilliant class the walls of Wakarusa High and the teachers thereof have ever frowned upon. The bitter doses of lessons we have taken with daily regularity have hastened rather than prolonged our demise, and we know with sorrowful certainty that the hour of our departure is near at hand. Therefore, being so soon to pass from these scenes of educational activity, being in full possession of alert minds and memories that put the most extensive encyclopedias to shame; having faculties keenly sharpened by many contests with flinty instructors, we would publish to you upon this funeral occasion, the last will and testament of the Senior Class of 1929.

I.

To the members of our beloved faculty, who look upon our demise with smiles of joy, we bequeath the satisfaction which comes from duties well preformed, and a peaceful rest from the weary task of making our graduation shrouds. We also leave them a large amount of sympathy for their depressing attempts to pound knowledge into our craniums. In addition we bequeath them our regrets that their work has been so barren of results—we leave them, but we don't leave them much!

II.

To the school in general we leave the out-of-the-way nooks where we have been wont to hide—usually in couples if the girls could inveigle the boys—to waste the time we should have spent in studying. To the school library we leave the collection of volumes setting forth the charms, the escapades, the achievements, and the startling knowledge Mr. Gerber has gleaned from our Physics exams. These volumes to be written by the first famous author who offers a good price for doing so.

III.

To the Junior Class, as our rightful and worthy successors, we leave

(a) Our seats. Occupy them, but do not try to fill them.

(b) Our Senior dignity. May they uphold it with becoming seriousness, endeavoring to overcome their usual hair-brained and frivolous flippancy.

(c) Our tendency to make a little knowledge go a long way in the class room; also our ability to throw faculty members off our trail when they imagined we were bluffing.

(d) Our honored positions as models for the school—models of wit, wisdom, charm of manner, excellency of behavior, physical development, and intellectual expansion. May heaven help you stand up under this strain.

(e) Lastly, that which gives us the greatest pang to part with—our strongly entrenched places in the hearts of the faculty who have loved us devotedly because—they couldn't help it! Comfort them in their loss, but don't imagine you can mangle their hearts as we have done.

IV.

To the vivacious and exuberant Sophomores we leave the right to prey upon the Freshmen, out of season and without reason, to unceasingly torture them, with the liabilities thereof!

V.

The following valuable personal bequeaths, freely and fully given, should be treasured as a continual reminder of the abundant and overwhelming generosity of the class and the individuals thereof. We trust these responsibilities will be assumed promptly and bring important results.

1. To Mr. Gerber, a copy of "Amateur Detective Suggestions" which we feel will be of great assistance in ferreting out the pranks of various students.

2. To our Principal of the School, the unfailing good humor of the entire class; we are certain it will be needed in dealing with the Seniors who succeed us.

3. To Miss Searer, who seems too much wedded to her work as a teacher, we leave the book belonging to the girls of the class "How to Win a Husband." Eventually—Why not now?

4. To future class presidents, Lowell Sloat's power to preside with a dignity that would do honor to a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

5. To Robert Lehman, Walter Hartman leaves his powers of fascination. Walter says he has a steady now and doesn't need further fascination.

6. To Robert Pletcher we bequeath Russell Weldy's habit of spending two hours a day on his Physics lesson—by sitting on the book while he reads yarns.

7. To Grace Hahn we bequeath Esther Hartzler's ability to use long and highfalutin words.

8. To Vesta Kollar we bequeath Genevieve Blosser's ability to vocally express herself.

9. To Mary Smucker we bequeath Katherine Lehman's sunny smile—it won't come off.

10. To Esther Eby we bequeath Grace Bower's ability to put on a fine complexion. "Save the surface and you save all."

Any broken pens, stubs of pencils, cast-off note books, mounds of gum we were compelled to stick hastily in out-of-sight spots to avoid faculty detection, and other mementoes, we bestow freely upon the finder.

With our last parting breath we do hereby constitute and appoint Mr. Sipe sole executor of this our will and testament.

In witness whereof, we attach the signatures of the class of 1929.

Justice of Peace

Miss Carlson.

Administrator, Paul Pletcher.

Class Poem

Composed is our class of twenty-one lads
And lassies great and small,
Each waiting for the time to come
When we hear the great world's call.

As Freshies we were two score and eight
With hearts as true as can be—
As sailor's brave we remember the lost
Floundering on our High School Sea.

And now that our studies are over,
We from this school must part;
Each with a will and a purpose,
To win his fame in some art.

From Freshies to Sophs, and to Juniors,
To attain to our worthy goal,
We were ever striving and battling,
In reaching this aim of our soul.

Now when at last we as Seniors
Have run the race in school
Each scholar with a firm endeavor,
Acquired a most precious jewel.

But still all our work is not ended,
Though our school days are passed and gone,
For the days of life are before us,
And we are still but in the dawn.

The world should gladly receive us
For through the years of W. H. S.
Not a class has ever surpassed us,
In winning so marked a success.

Myrtle Yoder, '29

Junior Class History

THE first day of school in September, 1926, found fifty-nine Freshmen starting their High School career. It was not long until they had a class meeting and elected the following officers: Miss Brevier, sponsor; Charles Myers, president; Cecil Weaver, vice president; Russel Hunsberger, secretary; Robert Lehman, treasurer. During the year we chose Blue and White as our class colors. We also had two class parties.

The second year of school started and it was found that there were forty-six back. This was the largest Sophomore class Wakarusa High School ever had. We soon elected the following officers: Mr. Rohrer, sponsor; Robert Lehman, president; Cecil Weaver, vice president; Irma Shank, secretary and treasurer. Although reduced in numbers our thirst for knowledge was greater than ever.

Again the next year found us back determined to set a still higher standard. We called a class meeting and elected the following officers: Mr. Rohrer, sponsor; Cecil Weaver, president; Robert Lehman, vice president; Dorothy Hoover, secretary and treasurer; Irma Shank, assistant secretary and treasurer. Again we found that our class was the largest Junior class Wakarusa High School ever had. We number forty-three.

On Thursday and Saturday evenings, December 13th and 15th, the Junior class gave a play, "The Winding Road." It proved to be a great success. We also entertained the Seniors and faculty at a banquet.

Lowell L. Yoder, '30.

Junior Class Party

THE Juniors decided to start the new school year right, so on September the twenty-first they had a party at the school gym. About one-half hour after the appointed time, a majority of the class and their sponsor, Mr. Rohrer, were present and ready to begin the fun. After partners were found, the group was divided into two teams. The lights were turned off and each team was given a flashlight and a note. The note gave the team the first step in a treasure hunt. After the teams had done much hurrying about the halls, the "treasure" was found—a sack of all day suckers. After they had returned to the gym, an auction sale was held. When a few more games had been played, refreshments consisting of watermelons and ice cream were served. Then the class went home, each one feeling that they had passed a pleasant evening.

The Return of Jim Rockingford

OLD, drear, and uninviting, the white north appeared to the lonely pair slowing pushing their way through the snowy fields called roads that led from St. Micheal to Fairbanks, Alaska. The two, one a young man, the other a younger woman, traveled in a very large bus, which was lined on both sides by a row of windows. Near the center of the roof was a pipe from which smoke lazily curled.

Many years before, Jim Rockingford, searching for gold, had traveled the same route. Alone with a few dogs he had wandered into Fairbanks, then a tiny village of a few straggling shanties. Now, in fulfillment of a dying mother's wish, Jim Rockingford, Jr. was seeking his father, whom he had not heard from for several years. After securing positions from the government, he and his sister, Vera, had come to Alaska as itinerary school teachers in a large bus to be used as a schoolhouse.

When they arrived at Fairbanks a group of curious traders, miners, and a few bright-eyed Eskimo children crowded about the bus. Jumping out of the car, Jim ran into a trading store and addressed a group of men.

"My sister, Vera, and I are here looking for our father, Jim Rockingford. Do any of you know him?"

None of the men gave any sign of recognition to the name. Finally one spoke. Addressing a man, who had a livid scar running across one cheek, he said, "Hey, Butcher, did you ever hear of a fellow named Rockingford? This boy's looking for him."

The man answered, a queer smile on his face, "No, I never heard of anyone of that name living around here."

"Why don't you go to old Bill Tyler?" said another, "He's one of our veteran trappers."

After securing directions from the man, Jim and Vera made their way to old Bill's lonely cabin. "Wal, wal, wal," was their greeting, "So you're Jim's kids, eh? Jim allus sed he had a wife an' two children. He was allus plannin' ter go back, but he niver seemed ter git ter it. Hang ut, son, ef ye don't look like the very son of yer father. Me an' Jim was pals, 'nen Jim left, plumb disappeared. Folks allus sed he had a cabin out yonder; at times he'd go away a week or two, then return, but this time he didn't. At the same time Butcher disappeared too, it looked mighty queer, them two leaving the same time. Later Butcher turns up with a knife scar across one cheek. Said knife slipped while he was skinnin' a wolf, but folks knowed better."

After the young people had received all the information possible they promised to return.

One November Friday, when they were headed toward Fairbanks after their usual week's work, they encountered a terrific snowstorm. The storm waged until late night. Finally they lost their way and were forced to stop.

The next morning when Jim attempted to clear away the snow that had banked around the wheels, he saw a cabin a few rods away, half buried in snow. Donning snowshoes, he started toward the cabin, which appeared to be deserted. After piling away the snow with his snowshoe, he managed to push the door in.

The cabin had but one room. At first Jim's eyes were blinded after the glare of the snow; then he noticed that the walls were covered with the skins of different Alaskan animals. In one corner was a cot and to one side, near a large fireplace was a table with a few books on it. Clacking his snowshoes over the rough floor, Jim approached the table. Lying open on it was a large, leather-bound book. Near was a letter. Jim glanced at it, grabbed it up and, after wiping the grime away, Jim read—"Mr. Jim Rockingford, Fairbanks, Alaska."

Rushing to the door he beckoned frantically to Vera. When she reached him he told her of his find. Going back to the table they found the book to be their father's diary. Reading hastily through it they discovered that their father had found a large gold mine. One passage near the end arrested Jim's attention. It read, "If it wasn't for Butcher my claim would be safe. He haunts me day and night."

Fortunately on the last page was a map of Fairbanks showing the position of the cabin. Taking the book and several letters, Jim said, "Come, Vera, we must get back to Old Bill and try to clear this thing up."

After some difficulty they cleared the path in several places and finally reached the main road. When they reached home they told Old Bill all that had happened.

One evening a few weeks later, while Jim and Vera were talking over the recent events with Old Bill, a loud knock was heard upon the door. When Bill opened the door, an old man stumbled in. It was Jim Rockingford. When asked the cause of his disappearance he said that several years before he and Butcher had quarreled over a conflict of claims on a mine. Knowing the temper of Butcher he had disappeared from his cabin and fled to a settlement far to the northeast. Here he had staked another claim, placed it in the hands of the government, and become rich. Only a few days before he had learned through traders about the arrival of Jim and Vera and had hastened to them.

When Butcher learned that Jim Rockingford was alive and had been reunited with his son and daughter, he left immediately and was never heard of again.

A Sophomore Feature Program

TODAY the program being broadcasted from radio station W. H. S., located on the main floor of the Wakarusa High School building, broadcasting on a frequency of 1931 kilocycles by authority of the National Education Committee, is sponsored by the members of the Sophomore class.

The first number on this feature program is a review of last years' program. Those in charge were Miss Brevier, Marjorie Brown and Luther Hartman. We enjoyed two parties, one of which was held in our studio and the other at the home of Veryl Hochstetler, a member of our broadcasting company.

We now have the privilege of introducing to you our present class of officers, who have charge of this year's program: President, Dale Anglemyer; Secretary and Treasurer, Marion Hahn.

As the next number of this feature program, Mr. Sipe, our Sponsor, will give a lecture on "How to Run a Sophomore Class." I am sure that his remarks will be very helpful to you, and that sometime in the future you will have occasion to use them.

The Sophomore Little Symphony Orchestra will now present to you "That Certain Party"—at Veryl Hochstetler's home.

There will now be a brief pause in the middle of our program for station announcement—

"You are listening to station W. H. S. broadcasting their Sophomore feature program. We will now return you to the Studio. This is C. J. Gerber announcing."

We now continue our program with renewed enthusiasm. The Little Symphony Orchestra will again entertain you with a group of three selections—"Strolling Down the Corridor," "That's My Weakness Now," and "Having Our Ups and Downs."

Our president, Dale Anglemyer, will make an announcement at this time concerning our class party. You have just heard our Orchestra play as a request number, "Snyder, Does Your Mother Know You're Out?"

Our program for this year is now drawing to a close. We hope that you have enjoyed this feature program, sent to you by the members of the Sophomore Class.

When you visit our studio you will see our banner of crimson and white.

If you care to do so, you may tune in on this station at this time next year, when the same class will bring to you another program.

We are now signing off on exactly the 19th of April, 1929.

Good-bye, everyone, and thank you.

The Unexpected Guest

ON a large hill stood a lone hut surrounded with beautiful flowers and sunken gardens. It was a very pretty scene to cast your eyes upon. Although the hut and its surroundings were beautiful, an elderly lady, Mrs. Brown lived here with a saddened heart. She was sad because of the death of her very beautiful daughter who had died when she was but six years of age, and because of the death of her dear husband.

Mrs. Brown's darling daughter Elizabeth was a beautiful child. She had golden curls and large brown eyes. Mrs. Brown spent most of her time in sobbing over the loss of her precious daughter, the remaining time in beautifying her gardens and lawns.

A little dwarf often came to visit her. People had given him the name "Little Pete." One evening when "Little Pete" came to visit Mrs. Brown he had with him a very beautiful butterfly. It had the most wonderful colors ever seen on a butterfly. It was yellow, red, and white. "Little Pete" asked Mrs. Brown if she wished to buy a butterfly. He said it would make a very fine pet for her, because she was alone and while she was sitting mending she could also be studying and admiring the beauty of the butterfly.

Mrs. Brown told "Little Pete" that she did not have enough money to buy the butterfly, but she said she would like to have it. The tears began to flow down her cheeks because she did not have enough money to buy it, and she knew it would be a great pet. She also thought if she had Elizabeth, no one would need tell her she was lonely.

"Little Pete" was a very kind-hearted dwarf and when he noticed she was crying, he asked her why. Mrs. Brown told him about the death of her dear daughter Elizabeth. "Little Pete" felt very sorry for her and told her if she would pick him a bouquet of her beautiful red roses, he would give her the butterfly. She immediately told him she would give him the flowers. "Little Pete" left the hut feeling very happy. Mrs. Brown was also very happy. She carried the cage with the butterfly in it wherever she went.

One night after the sun had gone down behind the clouds and the moon came up over the hills, Mrs. Brown heard the rustling of the leaves. And she also thought she heard a voice. After listening very closely for a few moments she decided that it must have been the wind, but she heard it again and it seemed to be saying, "Are you sad?" Then Mrs. Brown heard a faint rap at the door of the hut. Mrs. Brown was not frightened, because she thought it was "Little Pete" coming to see the butterfly, but when she opened the door, instead of seeing "Little Pete" she saw a beautiful fairy." The fairy stepped into the room and asked Mrs. Brown if she had any wish she would like to make. Mrs. Brown did not hesitate because she was always thinking of her daughter. When Mrs. Brown told the fairy she wished for a little girl to live with her, the fairy immediately left.

Mrs. Brown lay thinking of the visit of the fairy. She thought it was very strange that a fairy should visit her. The next morning when Mrs. Brown awoke she looked in the cage where the butterfly had been, but it was gone. She searched the room, but could not find it. She thought she would tell the dwarf immediately, and decided she would take some flowers with her.

Mrs. Brown went out into the garden, heavy hearted, and grieving over the loss of the butterfly. But as she stood picking the roses, with tears flowing down over her cheeks upon the roses, she heard a sweet voice say, "Where is your butterfly?" Mrs. Brown replied, "I do not know." Then the same voice said, "Would you rather have a beautiful girl than a butterfly as a companion?" Mrs. Brown said she would rather have her own daughter, or a girl who resembled her, than all the butterflies that could be found. And to her surprise from behind the large rosebush stepped a beautiful girl, dressed in red, having golden curls and brown eyes.

This beautiful girl walked over to Mrs. Brown, put her arms around her and kissed her, while tears of joy flowed down Mrs. Brown's cheeks upon the child. Mrs. Brown told the girl she was going to call her Elizabeth, and she also told her the story of the own little girl. This made Elizabeth very happy to think she was taking the place of Mrs. Brown's own daughter.

"Little Pete" and the fairy came the following afternoon to visit Mrs. Brown and Elizabeth. The dwarf was very much surprised, but was also pleased to think Mrs. Brown was happy. The fairy asked Mrs. Brown if she was satisfied with her wish. Mrs. Brown said she could not have been better satisfied.

There never lived a happier woman than Mrs. Brown after the beautiful girl came to live with her. Instead of a sad, weeping, elderly lady living in this hut, it was a happy woman who occupied this lone hut on the top of the hill.

Sophomore Class Party

ON the eve of September 21, 1928, the Sophomores started the Society Ball rolling by having a weiner and marshmallow roast at the home of Veryl Hochstetler with Mr. Sipe as chaperon. Thirty members were present. The invited guests were Mrs. Sipe, Harold Scott, Robert Lehman and Ivan Hahn. After we had eaten the weiners and marshmallows, games were played out of doors. Everyone present reported a good time.

Sophomore Poem

"Should you ask me, whence this story,
Whence this legend and this poem,
I should answer, I should tell you
From the Halls of Wakie High School,
From the class rooms of the Sophomores.
Months ago we entered High School,
Entered in the gates of High School.
Freshmen were we, verdant Freshies
But we showed the upper classmen
We were loyal, true supporters;
We were backers and not knockers,
We were bright and ready workers.
And we now are second classmen.
Sophomores of twenty-nine,
Still we're boasting, and we're helping.
Still we're sending contributions
To the Wakadee, the Annual
To the Basket-ball and Baseball.
And we'll hurry on through High School
Always willing, always ready,
Always rooting for our High School,
Ours the best of all the High Schools."

Freshmen Class History

ON the opening day of school forty-five Freshmen gathered from various places to the Wakarusa High School. Out of this number one girl discontinued to come because of her birthday. All the rest of us want to be faithful. When we came to school the opening day the surroundings were strange to most of us.

By the help of others, we met and held our first class meeting. We elected officers as follows: Lloyd Yoder, president; Dean Pletcher as secretary and Neva Letherman as treasurer. These officers served throughout the year.

Shortly after this there was another class meeting held. At this meeting we decided to choose our class-flower and class-colors. We selected green and gold as our class-colors and the golden butter-cup as our flower.

The Little Old Clock In The Office

"Every morning after half past eight
All school students will be late,
Then you hear the principal say
In the tardy class you may stay,
While the little old clock in the office
Keeps ticking the hours away.

To the Assembly you then go
To study what you don't know,
But that hour you waste and say
I will get that some other day,
While the little old clock in the office
Keeps ticking the hours away.

Your teacher will ask you to tell
What you studied before the last bell,
Then what on earth will you say
For that hour you spent in play,
While the little old clock in the office
Kept ticking the hours away."

The Highest Flight Ever Made

THE snow was flying on the streets of New York. Crowds were hurrying to and fro. Here and there workmen were coming from shops. Some were going to comfortable homes while others lived in tenement districts.

News boys were crying, "Special! Special! Girl flyers to attempt highest flight ever made!" Many people were interested in this event and the news boys rattled the extra coins in their pockets with great satisfaction.

In a room in a hotel in New York two young ladies were especially interested in the head lines of the evening paper. These girls were Florence Hale and Virginia Prescott, the girl flyers. As they sat in their room they were talking of their adventures for the next day.

"Don't you feel the least bit afraid, Virginia?" Florence asked.

"Not in the least," Virginia replied, casting a teasing look at Florence. "Are you getting afraid already?"

"A wee bit," she replied, "but this gives me heart," she said, raising the head lines of the evening paper.

The next morning the girls were down at the flying field bright and early. At nine o'clock the girls started up. As they rose higher the cheers grew fainter and fainter. The girls were very quiet. Soon the cheers were no longer heard and the tall buildings of New York were dim specks in the distance.

After they had been up in the air for a long time, something happened to the engine. Florence turned as pale as a sheet and gripped her hands on the seat. Virginia's father had been a mechanic and Virginia, who had always cared more for boys' sports and work, had learned something about her father's occupation. She was a daring girl and at this hour of danger kept up her courage. She crawled out to the engine and soon had it repaired.

When Virginia crawled back to her seat she looked at her watch and saw that they had been up in the air eight hours. They could not make each other understand a thing they said. Looking down, the clouds looked like snow capped mountains.

Although Florence would have been willing to go down Virginia wanted to keep on until morning. It soon grew dark and the stars shone brightly. Virginia thought she was having a thrilling time while Florence sat shivering and wishing she was back in the hotel safe and warm.

When morning came the sun shone brightly and Florence began to feel better. About an hour after sunrise Florence looked at Virginia and saw that she was pale. When Virginia turned she motioned that she couldn't go down, for it seemed that something pulled them up.

All they could do was to go farther up. On the second morning they could see another speck above them which looked like the world had looked below them, only this was very bright.

As they came closer and closer the girls were both excited wondering what this could be. The next morning they landed on this strange world for, although they did not know it, they had gone so far away from the earth that the gravity had pulled them to the moon.

The people all crowded around them talking a language which sounded like geese or ducks screaming, as Florence later expressed it. The girls made them understand they were hungry and several of the women went to their homes and brought them food.

The girls passed several days with these people. All the people grew fond of them. Virginia, who was very keen, soon learned some of their language.

On the sixth day the girls decided to leave the land of the moon, for the color of the vegetation was very hard on their eyes. They had a large crowd to see them leave. The crowd was not as large as the one at New York, but it could cheer nearly as loud.

They started out again and the same way the gravity brought them back to their own world.

Several days later the news boys were again crying, "Special! Special! Girl flyers back from a strange adventure in a strange world," and again they could rattle the extra coins in their pockets.

It Isn't Your School--It's You

"If you want to be in the kind of school,
Like the kind of a school you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you left behind:
For there's nothing that's really new;
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your school;
It isn't your school—It's you.

Real schools are not made by men afraid,
Lest somebody else gets ahead;
When everyone works and nobody shirks;
You can raise a school from the dead—
And if you make a personal stake
Your friend can make one, too,
Your school will be what you want to see
It isn't your school—It's you."

Junior--Senior Banquet

As the climax of our Junior year, we entertained the Seniors and teachers and several guests at a Banquet. It proved to be a most delightful time for all.

In decorating the Banquet hall we used our class colors, Crimson and Gold and in table decorations used the Senior colors Green and White.

Mr. Stark and a select number from the orchestra furnished the music. The Wyatt family of North Manchester entertained with readings and music. Toasts were given by Lowell Sloat, Harold Pletcher and a number of teachers.

Operetta

THE Chorus Class of forty-two members was organized last September. The main achievement of the chorus was the presenting of the operetta "Tulip Time," on Thursday night, March 28th. This operetta, the first given by Wakarusa high school, was a great success and was well received by a large and appreciative audience.

"Tulip Time," with its very fine individual and chorus singing, will long be remembered by those who took part, and by those who heard the operetta.

Those in the cast were as follows: Hans, a young Dutch apprentice, by Kenneth Culp; The Burgomaster of Orsendorf by Russell Neterer; Christina, a charming Dutch girl, by Grace Bowers; Aunt Anna, Christina's guardian, by Katherine Lehman; Katinka, a village maiden, by Lenore Hahn; Prof. Spindle, an authority on Botany, by Walter Bowers; Ned Baxter and Dick Warren, Americans, by Luther Hartman and Harold Weldy.

Verda Mauer, Class of '32.

Top row—Ruth Bowers, Pauline Brenneman, Kathryn Shutz, Esther Hartzler, Marie Shieber, Miss Carlson, instructor.

Bottom row—Thelma Risser, Marjorie Pletcher, Marion Hahn, pianist, Veryl Hostettler, Katherine Lehman, Grace Bowers.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club is composed of twelve members who meet twice a week for rehearsals, under the direction of Miss Carlson.

The Glee Club is not as large this year, but the lack of quantity is thoroughly made up in quality. The girls have sung at Parent-teachers' meetings, and at the Monday morning Chapel period where their singing was greatly appreciated by the other high school students.

From the Glee Club was chosen a girls' quartet, whose fine voices and splendid singing has been enthusiastically received at different times during the year.

Band and Orchestra

Second row—Donald Pletcher, Marjorie Pletcher, Opal Miller, Lois Lienhart, Marjorie Brown, Lenore Hahn, Helen Eby, Carl Eby, Laverne Pletcher, Mary Ellen Hahn, Walter Bowers, Miss Carlson.

Third row—Mr. Stark, director, Marion Hahn, pianist, Luther Hartman, Elma Weldy, Dorothy Brubaker, Harold Weldy, Ford Yoder, Katherine Lehman, Flora Jane Frash, Clarence Albin, Lenore Doering, Vivian Hollopeter, Lowell Sloat, Evelyn Grove, Maurice Weldy.

Our band and orchestra has made decided progress along many lines this year. The musical organizations are playing grades two and three music, in fashion that delights the listeners. Many of the players are proficient enough to get places in the Wakarusa town band. By playing concerts during the summer the uniforms were purchased.

Wakarusa High School Band entered the Northern Indiana Band Contest and won second place, losing first place to a school from Hammond where the pupils get eight times as many rehearsals as our band. According to the tabulation of the judges' figures Wakarusa won first on playing ability, but were defeated because of a shortage of instruments. Londonderry Air was the concert number.

The Reed Band has been meeting with unusual success. This group of players has been featured at concerts.

The Band and Orchestra have two instructors and directors in Miss Ruth Carlson, Supervisor of Music, and Mr. R. M. Stark, Elkhart County Bandmaster.

Reed Orchestra

Top row—Mr. Stark, director, Carl Eby, Harold Weldy, Ford Yoder, Walter Bowers, Marion Hahn, pianist, Vivian Hollopeter, assistant pianist, Wayne Freed.

Third row—Kenneth Farber, Sec'y-Treas., Ford Yoder, Cecil Weaver, Robert Lehman, Howard Robison, Floyd Eby, Paul Hunsberger, Vice-Pres., Charles Hughes, Loyal Hartman, Mr. Gerber, Sponsor, Dale Anglemyer, (absent.)

The Hi-Y Club of Wakarusa was organized by M. S. Harvey, boy's work Sec'y of Elkhart, early in the year. An "initiation" was held for the new members. Mr. Harvey and five other county Hi-Y officers presented the instructions. Our club served them refreshments.

President Harold Weldy and Secretary Kenneth Farber, attended the State Older Boys' Conference at Muncie, Indiana, during Thanksgiving vacation.

The boys attended a number of club meetings at the Y. M. C. A. Building at Elkhart. They were given the privilege of using the Y. M. pool and other gymnastical equipment on Wednesday nights.

The Hi-Y members may be seen wearing Hi-Y caps, pins, and monograms.

We thank our sponsor Mr. Gerber and all other persons who made our Hi-Y club a success.

Harold Weldy, '29.

Halloween Party

On the evening of October 31, 1928, the High School students, 7th and 8th Grade students and the members of the faculty enjoyed a masquerade party at the school building. The gym looked like a corn field with its shocks of corn and pumpkins. Evelyn Strobe, dressed as an Indian, received the prize as the most hideous. Lois Lienhart received the prize as the best dressed, and the Misses Esther and Mabelle Searer as the best couple. Refreshments consisting of pumpkin pie, doughnuts and cocoa were served.

School Paper

The first and last issue of the school paper "Purple and Gold" was off the press and on sale Friday, April 12, 1929. This was just an experiment in our school, but we are hoping that next year a school paper with regular subscribers can be published.

Farewell Party

On the evening of April 15th the Senior boys gave a party to the Senior girls, the Junior class and the members of the faculty. Games were played and refreshments consisting of ice cream, wafers, bananas and pop were served.

Athletic Association

THE School's Athletic Activities have been managed successfully this year under the direction of Coach Rohrer. More boys reported for the usual sports and seemed to take a better attitude toward the rules made by the association than ever before.

The future prospects look encouraging to those interested in athletics, for definite progress has been made in the fundamentals of the various sports.

Our aim continues to be to build character as well as the physical body.

The following Seniors received honor sweaters in the mentioned sports: Baseball—Lowell Sloat, two stripes; Basket-ball—Calvin Mishler, three stripes; Glenwood Harrington, three stripes; Walter Hartman, three stripes; Pauline Brenneman, two stripes; Track—Russell Weldy, 1 stripe.

It has been the custom of the Athletic Association to give each Senior who has played in more than one half of the games in any one sport for one year or more or place first in a duel track meet or first or second in a triangular track meet, a sweater as an emblem of appreciation. Each stripe stands for the number of years of participation on any team in any one of the sports.

Letters were awarded to the following athletes: Baseball—Charles Hughes, Russell Hunsberger, Lowell Sloat, Calvin Mishler, Nelson Lehman, Ford Yoder, Glenwood Harrington, Paul Leinbach, Dean Pletcher, Floyd Eby, and Robert Pletcher; Basket-ball—Calvin Mishler, Paul Lienbach, Glenwood Harrington, Russell Hunsberger, Ford Yoder, Russell Neterer, Walter Hartman, Newell Weldy, Nelson Lehman, Floyd Eby, Pauline Brenneman, Marjorie Brown, Irma Shank, Dorothy Brubaker, Evelyn Brubaker, Ethel Kaufman, Hazel Hahn, and Dorothy Hoover.

An athlete must play in more than one-half of the first team games in the sport which he receives his letter or he must be one of the eight men to represent the school at the sectional basket-ball tournament to receive a letter.

Letters for track for 1928 were awarded to the following: Calvin Mishler, Paul Leinbach, Paul Hunsberger, Russell Weldy, Harold Pletcher, Glenwood Harrington, Gerald Hunsberger, Russell Eby and Pearl Flory.

TRACK MEET 1929

Madison vs. Wakarusa at Wakarusa

Wakarusa again won the meet by a score of 64½ to 25½. Wakarusa took first in every event but the shot put. Madison was pushing Wakarusa hard for most of the events.

Summary of Wakarusa's places:

MISHLER—Took first in 100 and 50 yard dash, and tied for first in high jump.

HARRINGTON—Took first in 1 mile and the half mile run and second in broad jump.

P. HUNSBERGER—Took first in 220 yard dash, tied for first in high jump, and took third in the 100 and the 50 yard dash.

R. WELDY—Took first in broad jump, and tied for first in pole vault.

HARTMAN—Took first in 440 yard dash, third in the 220 dash, and tied for third in high jump.

R. HUNSBERGER—Tied for first in pole vault, and took third in broad jump.

YODER—Took second in shot put.

FARBER—Took third in the mile run, and third in the shot put.

LEINBACH—Took third in the 440 yard dash.

Mishler, Harrington, Weldy, Hartman, P. Hunsberger and R. Hunsberger cinched their letters in 1929 in this meet. The other boys have a chance for winning their letters in another meet this year. The record of the next meet will go into next year's annual.

* Home Games

At the tournament Wakarusa played New Paris at 2:00 P. M. and met defeat by the Leather Necks by a score of 33 to 19 after holding them at the half 11 to 12 in Wakarusa's favor.

The tournament was held at Elkhart on the 1st and 2nd of March in the Elkhart Gymnasium.

Goshen took the tournament. They had to play Elkhart in the finals. Nappanee was the hardest team to beat. They played Goshen Saturday forenoon. Goshen won by a score of 26 to 28.

This was the most interesting game of the tourney except the Wakarusa-New Paris game.

Elkhart beat Bristol by two points. This game was very close and very exciting. Elkhart had the easiest row in the tourney because they did not have any hard teams to play except in the finals against Goshen. Their first game was with Jefferson.

SECOND TEAM TOURNAMENT

First Round

Jan. 26, at Bristol Wakarusa 18, Millersburg 32

Wakarusa won 12 and lost 4.

Total points Wakarusa 283 Opponents 233

Average score Wakarusa 17.7 Opponents 14.6

Basket Ball

BASKET BALL practice began about three weeks before the first game, with 22 boys reporting for the squad. The prospects for a winning team were good, for nearly the entire last year's squad had reported for practice. Only Robinson and Pletcher were lost by graduation and otherwise.

During the fore part of the season Wakarusa won 4 games and lost 6 games. The games were lost by a close score. Then the interest on the first team seemed to die, and the team finished the season with about the same record as the previous year. The boys must be given credit for their attitude and fight shown in the games, for it was much better than previous years.

Much credit must be given to our fighting "one point margin" Second Team, for they put up a very good record for the year. They won 12 and lost 4 games out of a 16 game schedule. Four of these games were played against first teams. Another interesting point about the team was its knack to win a number of games with a one point margin.

It is very consoling for next year to know that there is not a senior on the second team squad. The entire Second Team squad will be back for next year. With Yoder, Neterer, Hunsberger and Weldy left over from this year's first team in addition to the entire second team squad, Wakarusa should have a good chance to win 75% of their games for next year. Let us give the next year's squad our support, and see what they will give us in return.

We should not forget that Wakarusa's teams made better than 50% of their free throws this year.

Inter-Class Tournament

The Class Tournament was won by the Juniors.

The first game between the Freshmen and Sophomores was won by the Sophs by the score of 25 to 15.

The next game between the Juniors and Seniors proved to be the best game in the tournament. Due to sickness the Seniors were weakened considerably, but the rest of the players put up a good fight but lost to a score of 19 to 22.

The Juniors then played the Sophs for the Championship title which the Juniors took quite easily by a score of 22 to 8.

Teams were organized between players in the high school that were not on the squad. These teams played during noon hours. The names of the teams were "Petes Pets," "Hartman's Hawks," "Ford's Fliers," and "Squad Boys."

The final standings were:

	Won	Lost	Per Cent
"Petes Pets"	6	5	545.5
"Squad Boys"	6	5	545.5
"Fords Fliers"	5	5	500.0
"Hartman's Hawks"	5	6	454.5

They also had a tournament. Petes Pets vs. Squad Boys. Petes Pets won this game. The next game was Hartmans Hawks vs. Fords Fliers. Hartmans Hawks won this game. The final game was played between Petes Pets and Hartmans Hawks. Petes Pets came out the winner.

Girls' Basket Ball

man, Dorothy Hoover, Ethel Kaufman, Hazel Hahn, Opal Miller, Irma Shank, Marjorie Shank.

Wakarusa	10	Bremen	21
Wakarusa	2	Lakeville	9
Wakarusa	10	North Liberty	21
Wakarusa	15	Lakeville	29
Wakarusa	6	Bremen	22
Wakarusa	5	North Liberty	41
Wakarusa	22	Bristol	6
Won 1		Lost 6

We must not charge our girls for losing on account of not having the fighting spirit because they fought better this year than they ever did before. Their tough luck at times is the fault of some of the loses, because they had possession of the ball most of the time. We only lose one girl by graduation, so our prospects for next year are fairly high.

The Girls' Basket Ball Team has only won one game the whole season, but they aren't discouraged, so why should you be? They seemed to open their eyes the last few games and really understand Basket Ball, but the start was too late. Losing some of the players was a hindrance, but by looking forward to the coming year of 1930, they expect to have the best Girls' Basket Ball Team in Northern Indiana. Ill luck comes to all and the Basket Ball Team must have had a double dose this year. Better luck next year!

Grade Team

Top row, left to right—Marvin Lechlitter; Floyd Eby, Assistant coach; Russel Blosser; Paul Christensen; Mr. Rohrer, Coach; Carroll Bontrager, Howard Harrington, Robert Hahn, Arthur Lehman.

Season's Record:

The grade boys had a snappy little team this year. They did not fare so well when they played away from home because two of the best players could not play away from home.

Teams	Winner
Wakarusa—Jamestown	Wakarusa	14-8
Wakarusa—Clinton	Tie (overtime)	10-10
Wakarusa—Jamestown	Wakarusa	29-14
Wakarusa—Middlebury	Middlebury	24-11
Wakarusa—New Paris	Wakarusa	17-11
Wakarusa—Dunlaps	Wakarusa	15-12
Wakarusa—Osolo	Osolo	22-9
Wakarusa—Dunlaps	Dunlaps	26-11
Wakarusa—Clinton	Wakarusa (overtime)	16-10

Wakarusa won 5, tied one, and lost 3.

Tournament at Middlebury: Wakarusa 7; Bristol 21

GRADE GIRLS' BASKET BALL

Wakarusa 18; Jamestown 4
Wakarusa 14; Jamestown 5

Baseball Team

Top row, left to right—Dean Pletcher, Mr. Rohrer, Coach; Charles Hughes, Floyd Eby, Nelson Lehman, Kenneth Farber, Assistant Coach; Ford Yoder; Glenwood Harrington.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE

The baseball team did not win very many games this year, but they played some very good ball at times. The boys were very good at the bat, but their weak points were at fielding and pitching. There were only eleven boys came out for Baseball this year. We hope that more boys will take an interest in this sport in the future so that Wakarusa can hold their own with our neighboring schools.

Teams	Winner	Score
Wakarusa	New Paris	25-5
Wakarusa	Madison	9-8
Wakarusa	Bristol	6-5
Wakarusa	Jamestown	9-6
Wakarusa	New Paris	4-3
Wakarusa	Middlebury	7-5
Wakarusa	Jamestown	12-1
Wakarusa	Madison	7-5
Wakarusa	Bristol	11-6

Track Team

LAST YEAR'S TRACK RECORD

Wakarusa was unable to have the three track meets which were scheduled for last year. An attempt was made to have the four schools meet with Madison, North Liberty, Lakeville, and Wakarusa on the Wakarusa athletic field. On account of a snow storm Madison was the only school that appeared. The meet was successfully run off between the two schools.

Wakarusa won the boys' meet 76½ to 13½. The Madison girls won the girls' meet 27 to 18.

Mishler took 1st in the 50 yard dash and the 100 yard dash; 2nd in the 220 yard dash and tied for 2nd in the high jump, making a total of 14 points.

Paul Hunsberger took 1st in the 440 yard dash, tied for 1st in the pole vault, took 2nd in the broad jump, tied for 2nd in the high jump, making a total of 12 points.

Harold Pletcher took 1st in the 220 yard dash, 1st in the broad jump; took 2nd in the 100 yard dash, and 3rd in the 50 yard dash, making a total of 14 points.

Glenwood Harrington took 1st in the ½ mile, and 2nd in the mile run, making a total of 8 points.

Gerald Hunsberger took 1st in the shot put, Yoder 2nd, and Brenneman 3rd.

Paul Leinbach took 2nd in 440 yard dash, and 2nd in the ½ mile run.

Russell Hunsberger took 3rd in the broad jump, and tied for 3rd in the pole vault.

Russell Weldy tied for 1st in the pole vault.

Pearl Flory took 1st in the Baseball throw and 3rd in 50 and 75 yard dash.

Hazel Hahn took 2nd in the high jump and Irma Shank 3rd.

Treva Enders took 2nd in basket-ball throw and Ethel Kauffman took 3rd.

Wakarusa's chances for a track team for this year are fair. We are having a duel track meet with Jamestown, a duel track meet with Madison, and a four school meet with New Paris, Bristol, Jamestown and Wakarusa. A set of twenty Hurdles have been added to the track equipment this year. They were made by the manual training class.

Genevieve: "I'm your neighbor now, I live just across the river?"

George Brenneman: "Indeed? I hope you'll drop in some day."

---

Sipe (to salesman): "I want to see some hats to fit my head."

Salesman: "The soft hat department two aisles to your left."

Miss Searer in English: "Russel Hunsberger, give us a long sentence."

Russel Hunsberger: "Life imprisonment."

---

Harold Weldy: "I got a zero in typing to-day."

Mary Enders: "That's nothing."

Harold: "What's nothing?"

Mary: "Why, zero."

---

Domestic Science Girls' Motto: "Don't kick about our coffee. You may be old and weak yourself some day."

---

Ford Yoder: "Can't you play tennis without making all that noise?"

Russel Weldy: "No, how do you suppose we are going to play tennis without raising a racket?"

---

"DEFINITION OF YAWNING"

"A leaving of the mouth ajar for a few moments for the purpose of ventilating the back teeth."

Newspaper Work—Miss Searer: "Why was some of the news left out this week?"

Walter Hartman: "On account of the crowded columns this week a number of births and deaths had to be postponed."

GATES AJAR

Here lies, till Gabriel's trumpet peals
The bones of Tuffy Carp;
He dozed while holding a steering wheel
And woke up holding a harp.

---

SOME GEOMETRY

Required to prove: A Freshman is not worth two cents.

1. A Freshman is a baby (proof enough.)
  2. A baby is a crier (ask any married man.)
  3. A crier is one sent (ask the Western Union.)
  4. One cent is not worth two cents (that's common sense.)
  5. Therefore, a Freshman is not worth two cents (by substitution.)

Poem composed in gym:

Violets are blue
Ferns are green
But they don't need a clothesline
To be seen.

---

Senior: "Say, did you ever take chloroform?"

Freshman: "No, what period does it come?"

---

Miss Searer (to Glenwood): "What are you late for?"

Glenwood: "Er-r—, class, I suppose."

---

Writing the Wakadee is funny;
The school gets all the fame;
The printer gets all the money
But the staff gets all the blame.

Harris: "The Seniors ain't what they used to be."

Pete: "How's that?"

Harris: "They used to be Juniors."

---

Tippy Wise says: "Remember the teakettle—tho' it's up to its neck in hot water, it continues to sing."

Genevieve: "Say, Thelma, do you know who I am?"

Thelma Metzler: "No, don't you?"

---

Joe Kehr: "Yep, I had a beard like yours once, and when I realized how it made me look, I cut it off."

Walter Hartman: "Well, I had a face like yours once, and when I realized that I couldn't cut it off, I grew this beard."

---

Miss Werntz: "I'm sorry your corn hurts your foot. Done anything for it?"

Mr. Gerber: "Why should I? It's never done anything for me."

---

THELMA AND RUSSELL

They sat together,
Worked together,
All semester long;
Played together,
Strolled together,
Happy as a song.
Then:
Crammed together,
Flunked together
Wondered what was wrong.

---

Mr. Bowers: "Why is geometry like postum?"

Bob Lehman: "I don't know."

Mr. Bowers: "There's a reason."

---

Mr. Gerber (in agriculture class): "Where are the waddles on a rooster?"

Elmer Weaver: "Around the hips."

"Have you heard how they get the census in Scotland?"

"No."

"They roll a penny down the street."

---

"One hundred years ago

A wilderness was here;

A man with powder in his gun

Went forth to hunt a deer,

But now that things have changed somewhat

It runs a different plan.

A dear with powder on her nose

Goes forth to hunt a man."

—By Lowell Sloat.

---

Ethel Kaufman: "I want some bloomers to wear around the gym."

Clerk: "And how large is your gym?"

---

Mr. Sipe (angrily catching Freshie by the collar): "I do believe a demon has a hold of you."
